Books of Condolence

'A Fond Farewell'

Our standard range

These books are intended to be signed by all those attending the funeral, either at the service, or a later reception. This offers relatives the opportunity to look back and see who attended their loved ones funeral, something often not taken in by close family on the day.

The books themselves are hand bound in burgundy faux suede and richly blocked in gold on the cover and can be supplied as a sewn binding or a loose leaf brass post binder. A dedication to the deceased is beautifully inscribed by hand on the title page. The remainder of the book consists of blank pages for signatures or dedication boxes with a floral decoration. With loose leaf binders there is the option to add up to six plastic leaves, which have the facility to hold up to six flower cards each.

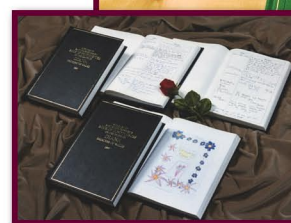

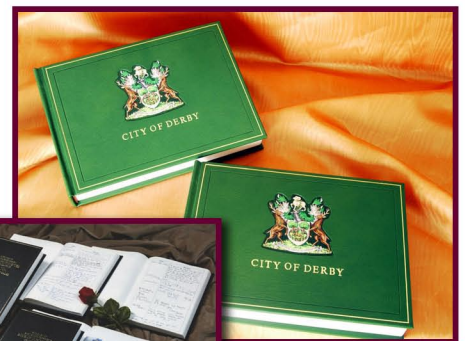

The books are supplied in a silk lined, hand finished presentation box with a 'Parker' pen.

Loose leaf books are available with 42 plain pages with plastic leaves if required.

The bound books are available with printed pages to hold 224, 512 or 1024 signatures.

Bespoke Books

We also supply bespoke books in all materials designed to your requirements and produced by hand by our traditional bookbinders.
